CREAM OF NEWS.

Dropped Dead
Mr. A. B. McCrae, a blacksmith at Bainbridge, dropped dead of heart disease last Thursday evening, aged 35 years. He had not complained until a few moments before death.

Fired on a Tramp.
A tramp called at the residence of Mr. D. A. Tandy last Thursday evening and asked for something to eat. Miss Susie Tandy, Mr. Tandy's youngest daughter, started to get him a lunch when the tramp undertook to follow her, when she picked up a revolver and turning first upon him. She missed the mark but the shot had the desired effect as he left in a run and escaped.

Shooting at Gracey.
A colored man named Ike, whose other name could not be learned, was shot and wounded by Ed Miller, also colored, at Gracey yesterday morning. The wounded man was aggressor and Miller did not shoot him until he had warned him to stand back and not advance upon him further. The ball entered the collar bone and penetrated the hollow of the chest. The wound is a dangerous one.

A majority of the 27 precincts, of the county were heard from yesterday, and all excepting Oak Grove instructed for Jas. A. McKenzie for delegate at large and Chas. M. Meacham for district delegate. At Oak Grove there were no instructions given. In Wilson's a large crowd was present and harmony prevailed. Committeeman McDow reports the party in good shape in that third party stronghold. The county convention will assemble May 14th.

Henry McGee Dead.
Henry McGee, of Bonnetts town, who was hurt last Wednesday, died on Friday. The account published Friday was correct except that he was cut by falling on a sprouting hoe 8 inches long, instead of a plow point. The mules started while he was standing up in his wagon. The hoe had to be pulled out of his side and the wound was a horrible one. Mr. McGee was a young man aged about 25 years and was the tallest man on flatland. He was very athletic and the picture of manly vigor. He leaves a wife and two children in straightened circumstances.

A Double Contract.
The Council at its second special meeting on the subject Thursday night decided to accept the proposition of J. P. Martin, of Xenia, Ohio, to put in both waterworks and electric lights. He proposes for $5,000 per annum to supply 72 hydrants and 32 electric street lights. To begin work in 30 days and finish in 6 months and put up a $1,000 forfeit to comply with his contract. The contract will be drawn up and entered into as soon as possible. The friends of the waterworks and lights argue that the increase of $755,000 in the assessment, at one per cent will raise more than enough money to pay for both. Of this however $583,000 is bank stock, over which there will be litigation.
